Objective

With over 12 years in healthcare and an entrepreneurial mindset, I am looking to further my specialized background and broaden my knowledge in other areas. I am active in the community working with the battered women's shelter, my wife and I run a small home based business, my family is growing, and I am looking for a long term place to call home in order to further my education and gain more knowledge. A destination job where I can really perform as well as set down some roots.
